FMJD Rating 01-10-2026

Introduction to Rating List 130

Following the release of rating list 127, which was the first list produced entirely with the new FMJD rating system , we would like to thank all federations, players, and officials who shared comments, corrections, and suggestions.

Your feedback has been extremely valuable. Based on the received input, several adjustments, fixes, and improvements have been implemented. These include technical corrections, refinements in data validation, improvements in presentation on the website, and further stabilization of automated procedures. Also we fixed some mistakes with new players.

The system continues to evolve. With each new list, reliability, transparency, and performance are being strengthened. All norms, including automatic norms, continue to be calculated in real time, and integrations with the FMJD and DrA databases have been further optimized.

We sincerely appreciate the constructive cooperation of the draughts community and encourage everyone to continue sharing observations and ideas. If you notice anything that requires attention or have suggestions for further improvement, please contact webmaster@fmjd.org.

We would like to express our sincere thanks to Wouter Morssink for performing rating calculations with the new system.

What is New in the FMJD Rating System

- Modern web technology stack including TypeScript, React, Google Cloud, and a PHP generated API on the server side
- An administrative interface that supports multi user operation
- Core calculation engines that will be published on GitHub
- Weighted average calculation for new players reaching the thirty game threshold (when a player reaches the threshold of thirty rated games during a tournament, the development factor is now applied in a more precise, weighted manner instead of uniformly to the entire event)
- Real time integration with both the DrA database and the FMJD database
- PDF rating publication split into multiple parts due to the increased size of the rating lists
- Additional sections added to the rating publication
- Much more detailed presentation of rating calculations on the FMJD website
- Integrated validation of FMJD IDs, including issuing new IDs during rating calculation
- All norms, including automatic norms, are calculated in real time
- And many more additions and improvements

As the whole system was finalized in a short time and under considerable time pressure, some initial issues or inconsistencies may still occur. Users are warmly invited to report any errors or suggestions for improvement by contacting webmaster@fmjd.org.
